

SYMBOLS AND TREASURES

Vice-President of Parliament Office - Central America and the Caribbean

Civilized activity is a social construct, every development process begin with ideas, and ideas are a cultural building block. Nomadic tribes that survived the ice age don't have any endogenous written memory of civilized activity registered before 332 BCE. It was melanin rich scholars that reported that Alexander entered Egypt.

The concept of one God, the concept of masculine and feminine nature of God the Creator process, the development of mathematics, calculus, astronomy, medicine, are all legacy of the African Civilized growth and development.

Spiritual practices, the schools of teaching called Lodges, the institutional work, minting gold, pyramid construction throughout the planet, lead me to conclude that the worst tragedy to humanity is the idea of establishing colonies in Africa, America and the Caribbean: colonialism and authoritarian neocolonialism.

A quick observation of the storage of African, American and Caribbean Treasures in colonial metropolitan centers, the use of the Nile Valley Civilization Symbols everywhere; lead me to conclude that we have no choice but to establish as priority African culture studies as one of the principal task of postcolonial decolonization activities.

Names were changed, the African legacy was stolen and given credit to impostors, the spiritual story line that became inspiration to do great things because of melanin, the melanin centers and the pineal gland, were studied and then given a replaced origin. Lies became the tool of choice, in the social construct of the colonial and neocolonial propaganda machine. Illiterate people were given titles and recognition for African deeds.

600 years. For 600 years we have an accumulation of compulsory lies, theft and genocide.

Walls are plastered with ancestral symbols, vaults are flowing over with treasures that belong to Africa, America and the Caribbean.

We did not know that ships with bayonets and swords would be so destructive to human existence.
